Acknowledgement of the Traditional Custodians

Banyule City Council proudly acknowledges the Wurundjeri Woi-wurrung people as Traditional Custodians of the land and we pay respect to all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders, past, present and emerging, who have resided in the area and have been an integral part of the region's history. We recognise and value the ongoing contribution of Aboriginal people and communities to Banyule life and how this enriches us. We embrace the spirit of reconciliation, working towards the equality of outcomes and ensuring an equal voice.

Diversity Statement

Our community is made up of diverse cultures, beliefs, abilities, bodies, sexualities, ages, and genders. We are committed to access, equity, participation, and rights for everyone: principles which empower, foster harmony, and increase the wellbeing of an inclusive community.

1. Purpose

The Victorian Government Office for Women in Sport mandates that all local government authorities adopt a Fair Access Policy and Action Plan to promote inclusive sports participation and address the unique challenges faced by women, girls, and gender-diverse bodies, particularly regarding:

- Equitable access to and use of community sports facilities and infrastructure.
- Full participation in all aspects of community sport.

This Policy sets guiding principles and objectives aimed at building Council's capacity to identify and address systemic barriers to gender equality in community sport. It focuses on enhancing programs, communications, service delivery, and equitable use of sports facilities.

The four-year Fair Access in Sport Policy Action Plan outlines how Council will provide local leadership and work with community sports organisations, leagues, peak bodies, and other stakeholders to advance the objectives of the Fair Access in Sport Policy. Together, these efforts aim to improve the sporting experiences of women, girls, and gender-diverse bodies.

2. Background

Victorian Government Fair Access Roadmap

The Fair Access Policy Roadmap was developed by the Victorian Government's Office for Women in Sport in partnership with VicHealth and Sport and Recreation Victoria, as a resource to advance gender equitable access and use of community sports infrastructure. It responds to the Victorian Government's Inquiry into Women and Girls in Sport and Active Recreation (2015), that found gender inequality continues to be a major participation barrier for women, girls and gender diverse people. Key Recommendation 6 of the inquiry focuses on the delivery of female friendly built environments and equitable facility usage policies. Specifically:

- Need for collaboration between state and local governments and the broader sector to achieve equitable access to high quality sport and recreation facilities.
- Need for facility owners and managers to review Access and Usage Policies to ensure that women, girls and gender diverse bodies have fair access to high-quality facilities at optimal times.
- Need to build on the adoption of Policies, Strategies, and Audit Tools to further drive positive change.

The Fair Access Policy Roadmap mandates all Victorian local government authorities to adopt and implement a gender equitable access and use policy to be eligible for Victorian Government community sports infrastructure funding.

The Fair Access Policy is Australia's first policy aimed at providing women, girls and gender diverse bodies with better and fairer access to community sports infrastructure.

This policy aligns with the Gender Equality Act 2020, which requires all Victorian local government authorities to conduct a Gender Impact Assessment (GIA) on all new policies, programs, communications, and services. The GIA critically analyses the impact of gender and considers how attributes such as age, disability, sexual orientation, ethnicity, race, religion, and socio-economic status can create overlapping forms of discrimination and disadvantage.

National and International Research

The Victorian Government's Fair Access Policy is informed by international and national data that highlights the significant barriers faced by women, girls and gender diverse bodies in relation to community sports participation. Key findings of relevant research are summarised below:

Underrepresentation: Females are underrepresented in community sports participation.¹

Facility Sharing: Females are less likely than men to agree that community sports infrastructure is shared equally between genders²

Gender Imbalance: Fifty-six of people playing community sports have witnessed gender imbalance. Two in three people believe their community sporting organisation needs to work towards better gender balance.

Unwelcoming Environment: Females are two and a half times more likely to report feeling unwelcome at their community sporting organisation compared to men. Fifty five percent of females reported that they observed sexist language and jokes. Female athletes experience three times more social media abuse than their male counterparts.³

³ <https://www.ourwatch.org.au/sport/resources/promote-gender-equality-to-sports-leaders>

Leadership Opportunities: Two in three people reported that men have more opportunities to be in senior leadership positions. Across 60 National Sporting Organisations in Australia, women represent:

- Under thirty percent of executive, board, and senior leadership roles.
- Only fifteen percent of elite coaching position.

First Nations People and Non-English-Speaking Backgrounds: First Nations females have the lowest rate of sports participation, and females who speak a language other than English at home tend to participate less in sport and physical recreation than those born in Australia.⁴

Disability: People with disability are significantly less likely to participate in sport and/or physical activity.³ The most common barriers include inaccessible venues and activities, unaffordable costs, and limited transport to venues.⁵

LGBTIQA+ Discrimination: Young people continue to experience and witness significant rates of homophobia, biphobia, and transphobia in sport and movement settings. Fifty-three percent of LGBTIQA+ young people have witnessed discrimination, and forty percent have experienced discrimination, mostly through verbal vilification.¹

Intersectionality: There is a need for an intersectional approach to improving community sports participation to understand how gender and attributes such as, age, disability, sexual orientation, First Nations background, religion, language and cultural background and other social attributes can create overlapping forms of discrimination and disadvantage.

By addressing these barriers, the Policy aims to create a more inclusive and equitable environment for all members of the community to participate in sports and recreation activities.

3. Banyule’s Commitment to Access and Inclusion

The Fair Access in Sport Policy and Action Plan is part of a broad range of Council policies and plans dedicated to fostering inclusivity. The graph below illustrates this organisational commitment.

The Council policies include the requirements of:

- The Gender Equality Act 2020
- The Public Health and Wellbeing Act 2008
- Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005
- The Local Government Act 2020
- Equal Opportunity Act 2010

4. Fair Access Principles

The principles of Banyule's Fair Access in Sport Policy align with the Victorian Government's Fair Access Policy Roadmap and are grounded in evidence of the known barriers to community sports participation by women, girls, and gender-diverse people.

Principles of Banyule's Fair Access in Sport Policy are:

1. Community sports infrastructure and environments are genuinely welcoming, safe and inclusive.
2. Women, girls and gender diverse bodies can fully participate in all aspects of community sport and active recreation, as players, coaches, administrators, officials, volunteers and spectators. This includes diverse groups such as First Nations people, people with disability, different ages, sexual orientation, religious, language and cultural background.
3. Women, girls and gender diverse bodies will have equitable access to and use of community sports infrastructure:
 - a. of the highest quality available and most convenient.
 - b. at the best and most popular competition and training times and locations.
 - c. to support existing and new participation opportunities and a variety of sports.
4. Women, girls and gender diverse bodies will be equitably represented in leadership and governance roles.
5. Encourage and support all community sporting organisations to understand and adopt gender-equitable access and use practices.
6. Prioritise access, use and support to community sporting organisations who demonstrate an ongoing commitment to gender-equitable access and use of allocated community sports infrastructure.

7. Fair Access Objectives

Safe, Welcoming, and Inclusive Spaces

- Provide safe, welcoming, and inclusive community sports spaces for women, girls and gender-diverse bodies.
- Prioritise investment in developing inclusive community sport infrastructure.

Eliminate Gender Inequality

- Enhance the capacity of Council and community sporting organisations to identify and eliminate systemic causes of gender inequality in policies, programs, and service delivery related to community sports and active recreation.
- Guide the development and review of relevant Council policies that include but are not limited to: Banyule User Guide and Allocation Policy, Sporting Facilities Capital Works Policy and Active Banyule Sport and Recreation Plan.

Build Understanding and Inclusion

- Increase the capacity of community sporting organisations to understand diversity, access, and inclusion, supporting greater participation in all aspects of community sport and active recreation as players, coaches, administrators, officials, volunteers and spectators.
- Foster a gender-inclusive community sports culture in Banyule through targeted education and awareness initiatives.
- Create more inclusive opportunities to participate in a diverse range of community sport and active recreation activities.
- Increase the participation of women, girls and gender diverse bodies in all aspects of community sport.

8. Gender Equity and Inclusion in Community Sports at Banyule

Sport is a highly visible and valued feature of Banyule's culture and identity. Community sporting organisations deliver a diverse range of activities that improve the health and wellbeing of the community and provide opportunities for social connections.

Council is dedicated to achieving gender equity in community sports, ensuring that women, girls, and gender-diverse bodies can fully participate in all aspects of community sport. Council acknowledges:

- Disadvantaged position some individuals have had in the community sports sector because of their gender.
- Multiple and interacting influences of a person's identity that can create overlapping forms of discrimination and disadvantage. These attributes include but are not limited to age, disability, sexual orientation, First Nations background, religion, language, cultural background and other social attributes.
- Requirements of the Gender Equality Act 2020, and the wider Victorian Government Gender Equality Strategy.
- Requirements of the Victorian Fair Access Policy Roadmap to establish gender equitable access and use policies in relation to Council owned community sports infrastructure.

Through these acknowledgements, the Council reaffirms its commitment to creating an inclusive and equitable sports environment for all members of the community.

Safe, Welcoming and Inclusive Community Sports Infrastructure

Community sports infrastructure constitutes a significant portion of the Council's estimated $270 million infrastructure portfolio. Creating inclusive and welcoming community sports facilities is a priority for Council, as it supports everyone's participation in organised community sports activities and contributes to a healthy, active and connected community.

Investment in community sports infrastructure is supported by the Social Infrastructure Benchmark Standards, which provide a framework to ensure that infrastructure meets the current, future, and emerging needs of the community. Recent improvements have focused on:

- Increasing Functionality, Capacity, and Accessibility: Enhancing the functionality, capacity, and accessibility of sporting pavilions to better serve the community.
- Planning New Facilities: Developing new facilities to support the diverse demand and growth in community sports participation.

Through these efforts, the Council aims to create an environment that fosters greater involvement and enjoyment in community sports for all residents.

Social Infrastructure Benchmark Standards for Community Sports Infrastructure

Fit for People - Inclusive, welcoming, and safe community sports facilities

Output

- Female Friendly and gender inclusive change facilities and amenities that address physical access barriers and apply principles of universal design to support all abilities.
- Enhance opportunities for broader community access to existing facilities by adding value to capital projects to support adaptable and flexible multi-use facilities.

Fit for Purpose

Support community sporting organisations with infrastructure that meets local needs and expectations while accommodating future growth.

Output

- New and upgraded lighting, playing surfaces and assets that meet State Sporting Association guidelines and maximise community sports participation and use.
- Evidence based data is used to understand existing sports provision and conditions and community sports participation trends and population projections.

Fit for Place

Ensure community sports infrastructure is environmentally sustainable and enhances open space, contributing to a sense of place, community connection, and identity.

Output

Support safe access and connections to the facility, environment surrounds and amenities. This includes adhering to the Council's Environmental Sustainable Design Guidelines, which encompass the installation of solar panels, LED lighting, waste management, recycling, and water tanks.

Equitable and Fair Community Access to Sports Facilities Infrastructure

The Council's Sporting Facilities User Guide and Allocation Policy 2022-2026 outlines the principles, processes, and framework for the seasonal allocation of sporting facilities and grounds. Assessment of seasonal applications considers percentage weightings and point reward systems for evidence of good governance and management.

Components include:

Assessment Weighting: Sporting organisations demonstrating commitment to gender equity initiatives, disability empowerment, and inclusive participation approaches and activities can receive a 20% assessment weighting.

Reward Points for Discounts: Sporting organisations can earn reward points, resulting in discounts on their seasonal fees for using ovals and pavilions if they can demonstrate involvement in gender equity access and disability inclusion initiatives, relevant training, or accreditation.

Community Sports Access and Participation

The number of women and girls participating in community sports has increased significantly in recent years, particularly in junior football, soccer, baseball, and cricket. This growth has been facilitated by the Council's investment in sports facilities and infrastructure, with a particular focus on female-friendly change rooms. However, more data is needed to understand the number of women, girls, and gender-diverse bodies participating in various sporting club roles as a player, coach, volunteer, official, spectator and administrator.

Initiatives and Programs aligned with the Policy

Inclusion@Sport Project: Launched in 2022, this project employed a person with a disability and collaborated with five Banyule sporting organisations to enhance awareness of inclusive practices. It resulted in the delivery of inclusive community sport activities and the ongoing capacity to support the participation of people with disabilities amongst some of our community sporting organisations.

Women in Sport Forums: These forums showcase the achievements of women in various community sporting organisation roles. They provide valuable networking opportunities, profile local leaders, inspire other women and girls, and facilitate the sharing of experiences, challenges, and opportunities.

Banyule Club Chat Online Newsletter: The Council regularly distributes information on sport to community sporting organisations through this newsletter. It shares topical industry information on programs, training, and grants that can support community sporting organisations in addressing gender imbalances and facilitating access and inclusion in all aspects of sporting organisation operations.

Abilities Unleashed Programs: In 2024 and 2025 the Council will deliver two Abilities Unleashed Programs for all ages, including come-and-try sport days designed to promote pathways for inclusion.

By implementing these initiatives and programs, the Council aims to foster a more inclusive and equitable environment in community sports, ensuring that everyone has the opportunity to participate and thrive.

9. Scope

The Fair Access in Sport Policy applies to:

- Leased sporting facilities, grounds and courts for athletics, bowls, tennis, hockey and croquet that are owned by Council (Appendix B).
- Seasonally allocated facilities and grounds for football, cricket, baseball and soccer that are owned by Council (Appendix B).
- Community Sporting Organisations who use facilities, grounds and courts managed by Council.
- Community Sporting Organisations who seek Council funding.

The Fair Access in Sport Policy does not apply to:

- Facilities, Grounds and Courts that are not managed by Council.
- Aquatic and Leisure Centres.

10. Appendix A – Definitions

Community Sports Infrastructure

Publicly owned local, rural, regional, or state level sport and recreation infrastructure operated and maintained primarily for the purpose of facilitating community sport activities, including sporting grounds, surfaces, facilities, and pavilions.

Gender

Refers to a person's deeply held internal and individual feeling of gender, i.e. the inner sense of oneself as man, woman, masculine, feminine, neither, both, or moving around freely between or outside of the gender binary. A person may express their gender through behaviour, physical appearance for example through clothes, make up, gestures or voice, or through medical affirmation. These choices are highly personal and individual.

Gender diverse

An umbrella term for a range of genders expressed in different ways. Gender diverse people may use many terms to describe themselves. They might also identify as agender, bigender, genderfluid or another non-binary identity. Language in this area is dynamic, particularly among young people, who may be more likely to describe themselves as a gender other than what they were assigned at birth.

Gender equality

The equal rights, responsibilities and opportunities of women, men and trans and gender-diverse people. Equality does not mean that women, men and gender diverse people will become the same but that their rights, responsibilities, and opportunities will not depend on their gender.

Gender equity

The provision of fairness and justice in the distribution of benefits and responsibilities based on gender. The concept recognises that people may have different needs and power related to their gender and these differences should be identified and addressed in a manner that rectifies gender related imbalances.

Intersectionality

Refers to how different aspects of a person's identity can expose them to overlapping forms of discrimination and exclusion. It also recognises that individual characteristics which make up our identity do not exist independently and often intersect. For some people, this can create complex inequities.

Intersex

Intersex is an umbrella term used to describe a wide range of innate bodily variations of sex characteristics. Intersex people are born with physical sex characteristics (such as sexual anatomy, reproductive organs, hormonal patterns and/or chromosomal patterns) that do not fit typical definitions for male or female bodies. This can create risk of, or experiences of, stigma, discrimination and harm. Note: Intersex is distinct from gender and sexuality. Intersex people may be heterosexual or not, and cisgender (identify with sex assigned at birth) or not.

LGBTIQA+

An acronym referring to Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and gender diverse, Queer and questioning, Intersex, and Asexual (as well as Aromantic and Agender) as an inclusive umbrella abbreviation to encompass a range of diverse sexualities, bodies, genders and sex characteristics. The + represents other sexual identities and signifies inclusion and acceptance for all experiences.

Trans/Transgender

A person whose gender does not exclusively align with the sex they were assigned at birth.

Gender Impact Assessment, or GIA

A requirement under the Gender Equality Act 2020 to be carried out on policies, programs and services which have a direct and significant impact on the public. The assessment must evaluate the effects that a policy, program or service may have on people of different genders.

Universal Design Principles

Framework for designing buildings, products, and environments to be inherently accessible to all people, regardless of age, disability, or other factors. The goal is to create inclusive spaces that can be used by everyone to the greatest extent possible without the need for adaptation or specialised design.

11. Appendix B Community Sports Infrastructure

The Fair Access in Sport Policy applies to all current and future Banyule community sports infrastructure identified in Table 1.

Community Sports Infrastructure

- Pavilions including change and social facilities
- Sportsgrounds, Synthetic Pitches and Greens
- Coaches' boxes
- Sports Field Lighting
- Sports ground car parking and lighting

12. Monitoring and Evaluation

Banyule City Council's Sport, Recreation and Community Infrastructure Team is responsible for the administration and evaluation of the Fair Access in Sport Policy and the implementation of the Fair Access in Sport Policy Action Plan which identifies short, medium and long-term actions to achieve gender equity in sport and recreation.

A review of the Fair Access Policy and Action Plan will occur every two years. Council commits to monitoring processes, information sharing and decision making to understand the overall level of success in the Policy's implementation.
